
Contents

Online Information 2008 Conference Committee.....	ii
Conference Programme at a glance	vii
Conference Programme.....	viii-xiii

Conference papers in programme order

TUESDAY 2 DECEMBER

Find what I mean, not what I type	3
Chris Sherman, President, Searchwise, USA
Building and using customized search engines: how you can out-Google Google	5
Mary Ellen Bates, Owner, Bates Information Services, USA
Putting Library 2.0 into practice: the process of setting up a wiki as a tool for knowledge sharing in a public library	7
Karolien Selhorst, Digital Library/Knowledge Manager, Public Library of Vlissingen, Holland
Course analytics—using Google Analytics to understand student behaviour in an online Open University course	13
Tony Hirst, Department of Communication and Systems, The Open University, UK
Personal search engine optimisation: search engine visibility for information professionals	15
Suzanne Koch, Editor and Owner, Pandia.com, Norway
Using public information as corporate knowledge	17
Darko Gulija, Head of the IT Department, Croatian News Agency HINA, Croatia
Realising the potential of technology tools: expecting the unexpected	23
Hazel Hall, Reader, School of Computing, Napier University, UK
Moving from readers to customers to clients in the Business and IP Centre at the British Library	27
Neil Infield, Manager, Business & IP Centre, British Library, UK
The library as strategic investment: results of the University of Illinois Return on Investment Study	29
Paula Kaufman, University Librarian and Dean of Libraries, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, USA

WEDNESDAY 3 DECEMBER

Catching the next wave	37
Richard Wallis, Technology Evangelist, Talis, UK
It's just semantics	39
Jeremy Bentley, CEO, Smartlogic, UK
OpenID: an identity system for the open web	43
David Orrell, Identity Systems Architect, Eduserv Foundation, UK
The seven skills of highly successful information professionals	47
Dennie Heye, Information Specialist, Shell International Exploration and Production, The Netherlands
Social networking tools as a resource for business intelligence research	49
Arthur Weiss, Partner, AWARE, UK
Exploiting social networks and social content in a corporate context	53
Richard Dennison, Senior Manager, Social Media, BT, UK
Supporting the information-driven Enterprise	55
Peter Brown, Managing Director, Pensive S.A., Belgium

Using semantic web mark up conventions to facilitate effective re-use of public sector information	61
David Pullinger, Central Office of Information, UK and John Sheridan, Office of Public Sector Information, UK
The emergence of hybrid professionals: new skills, roles and career options for the information professional.....	67
Sheila Corral, Professor of Librarianship and Information Management, Department of Information Studies, University of Sheffield, UK
Library 2.0 technologies in academic libraries, a case study of student use and perceptions.....	77
Anne Morris and Katie Allen, Department of Information Science, Loughborough University, UK
Teaching and learning in Second Life—experience from the Kamimo Project	85
Alastair Creelman, Alexandra Petrakou and David Richardson, University of Kalmar, Sweden
Advanced semantics and search—beyond tag clouds and taxonomies.....	91
Tom Reamy, Chief Knowledge Architect, KAPS Group, USA
Taxonomies vs. folksonomies in a regulated environment: the Boehringer Ingelheim experience	95
Christiane Wolff and Heike Schuermann, Boehringer Ingelheim GmbH, Germany
Ask Olivia, www.spoergolivia.dk—capturing the wisdom of kids	97
Berit Laerkes, Librarian and Editor, Gentofte Municipal Library, Denmark
The FLIRT model of crowdsourcing and collective customer collaboration.....	101
Sami Viitamäki, Strategist, TBWA/DIEGO, Finland
The semantic web—ultimate loss of control for publishers?	105
Richard Padley, Managing Director, Semantico Limited, UK
ORT Argentina Virtual Campus project—a case study about information and media literacy in K12/compulsory education	109
Guillermo Lutzky, Professor, Virtual Campus CEO, ORT, Argentina

THURSDAY 4 DECEMBER

The information and content technology marketplace 2008/9	113
Alan Pelz-Sharpe, Principal, CMS Watch, USA
Handy goods—while books furnish a room, e-books will furnish the modern mind everywhere	115
Robin Hunt, Research Fellow, CIBER, University College London, UK
The National E-Books Observatory	117
Hazel Woodward, Cranfield University, UK; Lorraine Estelle, CEO, JISC Collections, UK; David Nicholas and Ian Rowlands, CIBER, University College London, UK
E-books, e-book bundles: a new paradigm in information retrieval and book publishing	121
Henri Stiller, CEO, HISTEN RILLER, France
Talking to the digital natives: how organisations can accelerate learning.....	127
Roger James, Principal, Computiv Ltd and Director of Information Systems, University of Westminster, UK
Adapt to the new information seeking paradigm (and avoid disconnecting from the digital consumer)	131
David Nicholas, CIBER, University College London, UK
Search—finding a new future.....	135
Stephen E. Arnold, President, Arnold Information Technologies, USA
Search—finding a new future.....	137
Martin White, Managing Director, Intranet Focus Ltd, UK
Multimedia content use in the corporation: changes, challenges and needs.....	139
Bill Burger, Vice President of Marketing, Copyright Clearance Center, USA
Speaker biographies	141